morpheus a music centre by Sonneteer

“Step into the lap of the god of dreams,
....Morpheus by Sonneteer.”

The Product

High end hifi has never been quite like this. The Morpheus music centre from Sonneteer brings together the quality and convenience of modern technology and the ethos of traditional high end audio all in one beautifully crafted piece of equipment; a feast for both eyes and ears.

What it does.

As music finds its way onto computer hard drives, personal digital music players(mp3 or iPod), memory sticks and mobile telephones the Morpheus brings it all into the living room and plays it back with all the musical quality that Sonneteer products are renowned for. Top that off with 14000+ internet radio stations and 23000+ on-demand programs, the Morpheus truly has and does it all.

The Company

Since 1994, as a British high end company, Sonneteer have epitomised the best in high quality, high technology hifi. Their in house design and development team have attracted global praise for their products including, recently, 3 technology awards from the hotbed of high tech', Japan.

Main features:

Media player, internet radio, 100watt amplifier, wall mountable, stereo bluetooth (option), ultra slim machined aluminium chassis, universal power supply, crafted aluminium remote handset, inputs for all kinds of music device, expansion ports for future upgrade, Reciva Internet radio and streaming technology inside.
